

Welcome to June's Newsletter 2025 Edition No.86

Hello and welcome to June's newsletter.

We have had a busy few weeks with the dentist, Peter Collins and North East Producers visiting us. We also had an indoor street party to celebrate VE day.

The Dentist, Scott Arms Dental Practice, have been in to see some of our residents and will be visiting again in July to see the remaining residents.

As you can see our residents really enjoyed the pantomime 'Mothers Know Best'. They joined in with all the singing and dancing. Mario is always the first one up to dance!

The residents were having so much fun that they even started to do the conga!

Peter Collins is always a hit at our home! And, as you can see, where there is music, there is dancing!

We thoroughly enjoyed listening to the old tunes. Jane couldn't resist having a wiggle!

Pupil Pal Charity Omega

Omega, a registered charity, have organised another delivery of pictures, letters and cards to our residents. They have all had an individual pen pal who has been allocated to each of our participating residents. 'With a view of ending loneliness and connecting our residents to the community' is their aim and objective of the charity. As you can see, the pen pals have done some lovely cards, which has promoted well being and joy when reading them.

VE Day Celebrations

That's where the trifle is!

Nicky is keeping it close after spending several hours creating her homemade masterpiece.

Everyone got into the spirit of the party and wore their hats. It was a memorable afternoon and we all celebrated in style together at our indoor street party. We had music from the war time playing in the back ground.

Nice platter Sophie! We do love to have a good party!

Other activities we have enjoyed together

A variety of individual and group activities we have enjoyed together over the last few weeks. Activities help keep our residents minds stimulated. They also promote inclusion, hand eye coordination and cognitive skills. Keeping their fingers nimble and there minds sharp, whilst having fun, fun, fun!!

If You Are Feeling Unwell

If you are feeling unwell in any way with a cough, temperature, sniffles, sore throat or generally unwell, please think about our residents before you visit. Please stay away until you are feeling better. Our residents are vulnerable to pick up the slightest of infections that could have a devastating impact.

Toiletries

Can you please keep toiletries topped up for your loved one. Some residents run out quickly and need to be restocked regularly. Can you please check and restock as needed to ensure your loved ones continuity of care. Thank you.

Wardrobes

Again, some wardrobes are getting very full and clothes are not able to be hung properly and just having to be squeezed in. This is causing unnecessary creasing and looks unkept. If clothes are not fitting comfortably, or seasonally not needed, please take them home with you when you visit. Thank you.

Home Security

Going forward, all visitors need to be let out of the home by a member of staff. This is to keep our home secure. Please do not let yourself out and let a member of staff know when you are ready to leave. They can then ensure that the doors are closed securely. Thank you.

When the sunshine was out and the weather was hot, we had to partake in an ice cream or two. It would be rude not to!

Clothes with no names on

We have an abundance of clothes that we are unable to put away because they have no names on and the staff do not know who they belong to. If your loved one was missing a few items of clothing, can you please check with the laundry staff and have a look through the unnamed clothes box. It is vital when living in a community environment, to name all items of clothing so they can make their way back to the rightful owner. Thank you.

Goodbye

Sadly, we would like to say goodbye to our friend Roy, who has now gained his wings.
Rest peacefully Roy.
